Accused cop killer slips through cracks

◆ The man accused of killing a cop was in NYPD custody just last month
◆ Was wanted on multiple warrants in North Carolina ◆ But city forced to cut him loose, police say, after North Carolina declined to pick him up

The man accused of murdering a 22-year NYPD veteran in cold blood yesterday was arrested in Brooklyn just more than a month ago — but then let back out onto the streets despite having three outstanding warrants for violent crimes in North Carolina.

Lamont Pride, 27, is accused of fatally shooting NYPD officer Peter Figoski just after 2 a.m. yesterday, after Figoski responded to a robbery call in Cypress Hills.

According to the NYPD, Pride was arrested last month, on Nov. 3, when cops found him in Brooklyn with six bags of cocaine. At that time, he was wanted in Guilford County, N.C., on three outstanding warrants for felony charges, according to the Guilford County sheriff's office. The warrants all stemmed from an August incident, said NYPD deputy commissioner Paul Browne. One of the warrants was for an alleged assault with a deadly weapon, with intent to kill.

The NYPD contacted Guilford County police, Browne said, but North Carolina officials initially decided not to extradite him.

Then, on Nov. 8, Browne said, North Carolina police changed their minds and told the NYPD they wanted him. But it was too late. "He was in the wind," Browne told Metro. Pride allegedly skipped a scheduled Nov. 15 court date and the NYPD sent a fugitive task force of officers out hunting for him.

To extradite?

The expense and time commitment are likely reasons why states decline to pick up wanted suspects, according to a Manhattan defense attorney.

"Unfortunately, it definitely happens," said criminal defense attorney Vinoo Varghese. "There's a whole process for transporting fugitives that can be quite expensive and North Carolina is not a quick trip."

Browne refused to blame Guilford County police for their decision not to extradite Pride.

"One of our officers is dead because Pride shot him," said Browne. "It's wrong to put the murder of a police officer on the responsibility of another jurisdiction instead of on Lamont Pride."

Killed in the line of duty

NEW YORK. Figoski is the 10th officer to die in the line of duty since 2001, and the second this year; Alain Schaberger broke his neck when he fell over a railing while responding to a domestic violence call in March.

Figoski leaves behind four daughters, ages 14 to 20, and is part of a family of officers.

"You want a reminder of the danger that our men and women in law enforcement face every day?" said Mayor Michael Bloomberg. "Look no further than this shooting."

METRO

But yesterday, Pride turned up at 25 Pine St. in Cypress Hills. There, police say, he and another suspect were robbing a 25year-old basement tenant when Figoski and his partner arrived.

Figoski was shot in the face and died at Jamaica Hospital.

No one in Guilford County law enforcement was available to confirm the NYPD's assertion that North Carolina law enforcement decided not to pick him up.

Second person arrested

NEW YORK. Police arrested the alleged accomplice in connection with Figoski's death yesterday afternoon, according to the Post.

The NYPD had released surveillance video yesterday, showing a man in a Tshirt and pants walking down a street.

They said the man was a "person of interest" in connection with the murder.

• METRO/AB

200 Figoski made more than 200 arrests during his tenure as an NYPD officer, according to Police Commissioner Ray Kelly.

Occupy held faux press conference as 'vampire squid' Stunt targeted the notorious investment bank

Police arrested 17 Occupy Wall Street protesters during a rally against Gold-Sachs yesterday morning that was coordinated in solidarity with West Coast protests in which activists tried to shut down shipping ports in a show of support for union workers.

Several hundred protesters walked from Zuccotti Park to Goldman's Financial District headquarters where they demonstrated some wearing squid costumes inspired by writer Matt Taibbi's infamous characterization of the testers that they would be bank as "a great vampire arrested if they didn't move. squid wrapped around the Mark Bray, a member of the face of humanity."

The protesters then moved to the World Financial Center where they continued to chant inside the Winter Garden owned by Brookfield Properties, the same company that owns Zuccotti Park.

A man in a suit, surrounded by police, used a bullhorn to warn the proOWS press working group, said protesters were already dispersing when police started making arrests.

"The police are more interested in looking out for companies like Brookfield than they are in de-escalating situations without resorting to arrests," Bray told Metro. "You can see where their role leads them."

Bray said members of Occupy Wall Street have been meeting at cafes, the Atrium at 60 Wall Street or borrowed office space since the Nov. 15 eviction of Zuccotti Park.

Serial rapist sentenced to centuries in prison

NEW YORK. A serial rapist who was convicted of committing five brutal rapes in Manhattan was sentenced yesterday to 428 years behind bars.

Vincent Heyward, 23, was slapped with a sentence of 200 years to life with a second consecutive sentence of 228 years, the Manhattan district attorney announced yesterday.

"The defendant viciously preyed on victims who were physically weaker than him, including a 69year-old woman," said Manhattan DA Cyrus Vance. "Thanks to the successful use of forensic DNA evidence in the investigation, this criminal was held responsible for a monstrous pattern of violence against New York women."

On November 18, a jury convicted Heyward of multiple felonies, including eighteen counts of predatory sexual assault. Heyward was found guilty of raping five women, ranging in age from 23- to 69years old, in Hamilton Heights and Chinatown over the course of August and September of 2009. MEMILY ANNE EPSTEIN

Catalog of horrors

- Aug. 1, 2009: Heyward grabbed a 59-year-old woman, pulled her into an alley behind West 148th street, and raped, sodomized and robbed her at knife-point.
- Aug. 10, 2009: Heyward followed a 23-year-old woman into her apartment building on West 144th Street, held a knife to her throat, and raped and robbed her.
- Aug. 18, 2009: Heyward followed a 69-year-old woman into an apartment building on Riverside Drive, threw her to the ground, sodomized and robbed her.
- Aug. 23, 2009: Heyward entered an apartment building on Broome Street, and robbed and tried to rape a 34-year-old woman.

After helping countless knee pain sufferers eliminate their pain, a local doctor warns,

"If you or a loved one are scheduled for knee surgery, READ THIS ARTICLE BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE!"

A safe, non-surgical FDA cleared treatment is now locally available, proven to effectively reduce and even eliminate knee pain. The best part? It's covered by most insurances.

Manhattan, New York:

Today, the average American lives about 30 years longer than they would have a hundred years ago. However, the age of premature wear and tear to knee joints is occurring at an alarming rate (half of all anti-inflammatory drug prescriptions written in the U.S. are for joint pain). Most patients treated are getting younger and younger. We're noticing that even busy executives have extremely active lifestyles. Between stressful deadlines, caring for families, and participating in excercise and sports. and participating in excercise and sports, they're actually grinding their joints away. And sometimes, it goes unnoticed until it's too late.

performed each year in the United States. This image depicts the procedure.

Considering Surgery?

People who suffer from knee pain typically try supplements or pain medications before seeking help from a doctor. When all else fails and the pain is too much, some think that surgery is the only option.

However, there's good news... and you've probably never even heard of it.

A revolutionary new non-surgical treatment Viscosupplementation Therapy called providing hope and relief for many knee pain sufferers. Offered locally by Dr. Halland Chen, M.D., this procedure is minimally invasive, requires no surgery, provides immediate results, and has little to no recovery time.

How does this therapy work?

Dr. Chen uses the newest, most advanced technology in medical equipment and years of experience to pinpoint problem areas with extreme accuracy. Viscosupplementation is then injected into the knee and bonds with naturally occurring joint fluid to create a lubricating and cushioning layer. It also reduces pain, inflammation, and swelling of the joint. Most patients compare the treatment to getting a flu shot and report little pain or discomfort.

Why have knee injections failed in the past? What's different about Dr. Chen's procedure?

Most doctors today do one of three things:
1) They perform "blind injections," an injection done without imaging guidance. 2) They use antiquated equipment from as far back as 2001, even in some of the largest hospitals in New York. 3) They use Cortisone, which can have side effects. have side effects.

Precision is the difference. Fact: 30-40% of blind injections result in needle misplacement.[1]

It's no wonder most people never experience relief!

What exactly is injected into the knee?

Hyaluronic Acid (Hyalgan) is a natural substance extracted from rooster combs and purified to mimic the lubricating substances that occur naturally in the joint, called synovial fluid. In patients with osteoarthritis, synovial fluid "dries up," allowing the cartilage of the joint to rub against itself and other surfaces. This causes pain, inflammation, and usually damage to the joint. Think of this treatment like oiling a rigid, squeaky door hinge squeaky door hinge.

When will I feel results?

Most feel an immediate reduction in pain and can return to normal activities in weeks.

Will my insurance cover this treatment?

Floating pooch rescued from Hudson by NYPD

A game of catch turned frightful for a Chelsea dog owner when his pooch jumped into the Hudson River on Sunday.

Scott Kariya, 40, was playing Frisbee with his dog Bodhi at the riverfront park near 13th and West streets, police said, when the disc skipped off the ground and into the water.

His 2-and-a-half-year-old Airedale terrier leapt into the river after it, police said.

Harbor patrol officers Benjamin Reiver and Kevin Fedynak raced to the scene after receiving a 911 call reporting a dog in the water.

Police found Kariya on a piling and Bodhi floating underneath the structure. Officer Fedynak was able to pull the dog safely from the water and onto the boat using a canine noose, police said. The officers wrapped the dog in towels and brought him into the warm cabin on the boat to prevent hypothermia.

After rescuing the pooch, the officers helped Kariya off the side of the pier.

This is the second time Fedynak and Reiver have saved a drifting canine. The police officers were called to rescue a German shepherd dog on July 25 of this year near Manhattan Beach in Brooklyn. The current had whisked the GSD a mile offshore when the officers saved him.

Tom Hill CGA STAFF WRITER

Every three minutes another person falls behind on credit card debt. It's no wonder, since every major credit card company has nearly doubled the minimum monthly payment on consumers' bills. # Obama: US will stay loyal partner for Iraq

Troops make their way out as end-of-year pullout approaches

President Barack Obama yesterday pledged that Washington would remain a strong partner for Iraq as U.S. troops exit by yearend, and played down the risk this departure creates a power vacuum Iran can exploit.

The withdrawal of almost all U.S. troops from Iraq by Dec. 31 has created uncertainty at a time the region remains roiled by the Arab Spring, and amid fear Syrian instability could spread sectarian strife into neighboring Iraq.

But Obama told a press conference with Iraqi President Nuri al-Maliki Washington remains a strong Middle East presence.

"As we end this war and as Iraq faces its future, the Iraqi people must know that you will not stand alone. You have a strong and enduring partner in the United States of America."

Fulfilling a vow to Americans weary of the nearly 9-year-old war as he campaigns for re-election in 2012, Obama's order for the troops to leave came after a deal to keep thousands of U.S. trainers on the ground failed on the issue of immunity from prosecution in Iraq. REUTERS

Before Bringing your items to us, take them to other dealers. Have them give you legitimate offers in writing. Then bring your jewelry and written offers to one of our locations. Although no one can guarantee with certainty they are paying the highest price for an article at any particular time, we will strive to beat most legitimate written offers.

Why We Can Usually Pay More Than Other Dealers

Most jewelers and dealers specialize in few items and focus on newer looking items to resell. Because they are unfamiliar with many other items including vintage jewelry, old watches, coins, flatware, etc. they tend to offer very low prices because these items are not readily saleable for them. Our company has many specialized buyers for the various classifications of items that we purchase, therefore we can usually pay more.

A Note Regarding the Up To Prices listed in this Ad

The condition and rarity of an item determines its price. If an item is in excellent condition and very rare it might be worth the up to price, or even more. However, if an item is in poor condition, the value will be lower. For example, a 1927 S Quarter could be worth $7,000 in new condition or less than $20 in poor condition. The up to price reflects items of exceptional quality and rarity. Although it is unlikely you will have these items due to their extreme rarity, feel free to bring whatever items you may have and we will evaluate them free of charge.

Customer Satisfaction

Most of our business comes from satisfied customers and referrals which includes their friends and families. Our showrooms are safe and private. Our staff is courteous and professional and we strive as a company to make your selling experience a pleasant one.

Help the Environment

Using recycled precious metals for jewelry is an important way for jewelers to source precious metals more responsibly. Precious metals that have already been used in some way, including "vintage," "renewed," or "reclaimed" metals from jewelry and electronics, are not directly implicated in the destructive impacts of mining. They do not share responsibility for the impacts of mining in the same way that newly mined gold does.

CALIFORNIA. Intel Corp. warned that hard-disk drive supply shortages would hurt its current-quarter revenue, the latest heavyweight in the PC industry to caution about the effects of flooding that has crippled factories in Thailand.

Intel is the world's largest chipmaker.

Hundreds of people have died in flooding in Thailand that has caused billions of dollars in damages since late July and disrupted international supply chains in the PC and automobile industries.

PC makers have been scrambling to buy increasingly scarce hard drives after the flooding shut down factories in the country, which is the world's No. 2 exporter of the components. REUTERS

More than 3/4 of workers say they would report corporate theft if guaranteed anonymity and a reward

Four months after U.S. financial regulators opened a whistleblower office, more than three-quarters of polled Americans said they would blow the whistle under the protections and incentives now offered by the government.

Hulk Hogan is not a homosexual, OK?

Hulk Hogan, who filed a defamation suit against exwife Linda Bollea, says he's just trying to defend his reputation. "After the fouryear crazy divorce I thought I'd heard everything I could hear in the courtroom," the former wrestling star tells Us Weekly. "Then all of a sudden she says I abused her, that I was violent. She told everybody that I was a homosexual." Hogan adds that his real problem with Bollea's accusations is that they aren't accurate. "If any of that was true, I would admit it, and, [if] I was a homosexual, I would embrace it," he says. "If you're going to say I'm something that I'm not to try to ruin my career and my livelihood, I have to answer her back."

Look, Linda. Just because at one point in his life, your ex-husband had a huge boa scarf collection and loved Spandex, tan skin, rippling muscles, ripping his shirt off at the drop of a hat and pinning sweaty men to the ground, does not mean he was in the closet while you were married. If it were someone else's husband, however, I'd be a tad worried.

A theft-filled weekend for Lohan

Lindsay Lohan had a drama-filled weekend, and not just because of her leaked Playboy spread. While partying in Hawaii, the troubled starlet reportedly had her purse stolen, according to TMZ. The $5,000 Chanel handbag, which was snatched from a parked car, was said to contain $10,000 in cash. The purse was later returned, minus the cash. Lohan was reportedly fretting another probation violation, as her passport and court documents allowing her to travel were also in the purse but were returned safely.

Which leads me to a very pressing, unrelated question: Do drug dealers accept traveler's checks?

Ashton Kutcher is looking to get a jump on his New Year's resolutions, and given the year he's had, it's not such a surprise. But even though it was love at first sight for O'Donnell, she did her best to play it cool. "I knew about a week after we met, but I did the smart thing and didn't propose right away," she says. "You know, I'm at the age where I just knew."

When dreams become nightmares

▶ In new book, Peter Bebergal recalls his coming-of-age via psychedelics and the underground ▶ It's a trip with psychonauts, punks and freaks

"I had glimpsed the sun behind the moon in the middle of the night and its rays had filled me with hope," writes author Peter Bebergal, describing his first experience with marijuana in his memoir, "Too Much to Dream: A Psychedelic American Boyhood." Like many a lonely, geeky suburban kid growing up in the '70s, Bebergal began his adolescence as a devotee of comic books. Tolkien and D&D, but he grew restless.

"It could no longer contain a deeper spiritual need I had," he says. "I wanted to experience real magic."

Diving back in

For the counterculture of his era, still awash in the wide-eyed but nervous afterglow of the '60s, that meant three things above all: Turning on, tuning in and dropping out.

From that initial experience with cannabis, Bebergal embarks upon a whirlwind coming-of-age journey, consorting with homeless acid-heads, occult-obsessed mall security guards, desperate hardcore punkers and other fringe dwellers. He delves into underground comics, psychedelic rock, Western ceremonial magic and lots and lots of tripping. Along the way, Bebergal presents a primer on the psychedelic era, discussing in extended non-memoir passages the history of LSD, the I-Ching, the Silver Surfer, Pink Floyd and more, portraying from myriad angles his generation's quest for, in his words, "something else, some abstract more always undefined, but always there on the periphery and as unattainable as a horizon."

Adoption concern

Nearly all internationally adopted children are from countries with a medium to high rate of hepatitis A infection, according to a recent policy statement from the American Academy of Pediatrics. The virus is highly contagious; but because most infected kids show no symptoms, it's important to take precautions if you're planning to adopt. The AAP advises that all unvaccinated family members, as well as anyone who will be in close contact with your child during the first two months of his arrival, receive a hepatitis A immunization at least two weeks before you bring him home.

Should your kid have an online presence?

Mariah Carey and Nick Cannon recently caused a stir when they created Dembabies.com, a website dedicated to their newborn twins Moroccan and Monroe, complete with intimate and revealing shots of the babies in the bath and even in the hospital. But the Carey-Cannons are not the only family giving their kids an online presence at a very early age - babies are now on Twitter, YouTube and Facebook, which even has an option to add an "expected" member of their family, complete with a photo and due date.

The average child's "digital birth" is at about 6 months old, according to a global report by Internet Security specialist AVG, although photos of 33 percent of children are posted online just weeks after birth, and almost a quarter of children have a digital footprint before birth, when their parents put sonogram photos online. Eighty-one percent of children have a digital profile by age 2.

- Read the terms of use of the website that you intend to use; many have rules about the minimum age of users.
- Keep in mind that the Internet is a public place; references to your child will be available forever and a child's reputation can be impacted by anything that a parent chooses to share.
- Set your privacy settings carefully and consider sharing only with immediate family and friends.

"By creating a digital presence for your child at a young age, you may be compromising their privacy. Parents should ask themselves how they would feel if every aspect of their own childhood was made public," says Whitby. "Some children may not like the history their parents have created for them."

RE: "MAN AND WOMAN OF THE YEAR": Metro is asking readers to choose a person of the year between Steve Jobs, the Occupy protestors and Gabrielle Giffords. #### It's OK to say: Merry Xmas

I am so tired of everyone omitting Christmas and substituting it with holiday. Why is it so politically incorrect to say "Merry Christmas" when it's quite fine to say "Happy Hanukkah"? We don't call the menorah a holiday candle - why should the Christmas tree be called a holiday tree? Why does everything that's related to Christmas have to be holiday? There is no reason; Christians honor Christ at Christmastime and decorate to celebrate. No one is taking away Kwanza and Hanukkah. I

Much of my time as a PR professional was spent counseling senior management on this non-negotiable point. Fortunately, most listened. Those who didn't learned. KIRK HAZLETT, VIA E-MAIL

Horoscope

Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21. An ambitious objective isn't apt to be fulfilled, because it's likely that you'll only be willing to wish for what you want but not eager to work for it. Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 19. If you hear about something that sounds wonderful but requires a large outlay of cash, don't jump in without first checking out its bona fides. Naivete could cost a bundle. Aquarius Jan. 20-Feb. 19. Someone on whom you're counting for help concluding a very complicated matter might let you down. You could be in trouble unless you have a backup plan ready, just in case. H Pisces Feb. 20-March 20. A job you've been putting off for quite some time might become a thorn in your side. Don't waste any more time making excuses -- get down to business as promptly as possible. T Aries March 21-April 19. Wanting things and being able to afford them are two entirely different matters. Don't let your extravagant whims overwhelm your common sense. Taurus April 20-May 20. Some of your objectives aren't likely to be achieved, because it isn't likely that you'll get organized enough to do what it takes to realize your aims.

II Gemini May 21-June 20. Be very careful of what you voice about others, even those who may deserve being put in his or her place. Unfortunately, what you say and how you say it could make you look bad. Gancer June 21-July 22. If being friends with someone is predicated purely upon what they can do for you, the relationship is likely to fall flat. It might be wise to examine your reasons for this behavior. Ω Leo July 23-Aug. 22. It wouldn't be smart to get into a finger-pointing contest with an associate at work, because there is no way it will make either of you smell nice. The bad odor could even affect your career.

TV Virgo Aug. 23-Sept. 22. It doesn't matter if it happens at work or in a social setting, arguing political intrigues is likely to cause you some problems. Don't be jockeyed into feeling you must participate.

Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23. The change that you've been fervidly awaiting might happen at last; but once it does, you could wonder why it was something you thought you wanted. M. Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22. Before you lash out about some unflattering things being said about you, perhaps it might be wise to check it out first. What is told to you may have

no basis in fact. BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For the explorer

Lace up your hiking boots and get around via alternative transportation

Situated on the mountain in the middle of Montreal island, Mt. Royal Park doesn't just provide exercise getting to the top the scenic green space designed by Central Park mastermind Frederick Law Olmsted offers excellent views, too. In winter, explore the park via skis or snowshoes; in the warmer months, take to the bike paths. Gain access to any of the 5,000-plus cruisers in the BIXI bikeshare system for citywide sightseeing for just $5.

For the fashionista

Score a fabulous find from a local designer

Montreal is fiercely proud of its homegrown designers and stepping into their boutiques, it's not hard to see why. For the conscientious snow bunny, Harricana (3000 rue Saint-Antoine Ouest, 514-287-6517) is a dream come true: Designer Mariouche Gagne upcycles outdated fur fashions into classically cool new pieces, like a knitted fur vest.

For more secondhand finds, pop into the "friperies" in the trendy Plateau District. We like Folles Alliees (365 Av. du Mont-Royal E., 514-843-4904) for its finely curated, mintcondition vintage pieces and Retromania Boutique

Montreal is home to North America's very first Snow Village, opening Jan. 6 in Jean-Drapeau Park. A city made entirely of ice and snow, this celebration of winter includes an ice hotel, restaurant, bar and chapel for some very white weddings (www.snow villagecanada.com).

(820 Av. du Mont-Royal E., 514-596-2618) for its well-organized, affordable finds that could have come from your hip sister's closet.

For the culturephile

Eat your way through the city like a local

You could spend hours in Montreal's markets, sampling the local food and mingling with the people who grow and purchase it. Little Italy's Jean-Talon Market (7070 Henri-Julien St., 514-937-7754) is a year-round emporium of all things fresh and a true feast for all of the senses.

But save some room for the bagels, too. Montrealstyle bagels are smaller, sweeter and denser than the New York variety. They're always baked in a wood-fire oven - right in front of you at St-Viateur Bagel & Cafe (multiple locations, www.stviateurbagel.com) which makes it worth a stop for breakfast or lunch.

Knicks thinking big

New York not shying away from talking championship on Media Day New 'Big 3' of Chandler, Melo, Amar'e get first real practice in together Anthony: 'For us, sky is the limit'

Carmelo injures knee in practice

Carmelo Anthony went down midway through the practice session with an apparent leg injury and didn't finish the workout.

He left the floor under his own power and was declared "day-today" with a hyperextended left knee. Mike D'Antoni was so sure Melo would be OK that he joked afterwards that his star was pulling a fast one.

"He's practicing tomorrow, I believe. But I think it was a veteran move he put on us [to get out of practice]. But he's OK. Our thinking was he's been great for us so far, so why risk it?" O METRO/TW

The Knicks might not be done retooling its roster, but that didn't stop the important cogs from mentioning championship aspirations.

Forget that the Knicks have a legitimate question mark at point guard, everybody's thinking big.

"For us, sky's the limit," said Carmelo Anthony during Media Day yesterday. "The team did a great job of building a great frontcourt. We're ready to take on the challenges [so] line 'em up. We're ready to play and ready to compete for a championship."

The nine-year veteran said he's done just about everything in his career, except win a title, so he's ready for whatever coach Mike D'Antoni has in store.

"My thing is whatever coach needs from me I'll try to do and make it happen," Anthony said. "The focus will be to make Amar'e [Stoudemire] and Tyson [Chandler]'s jobs easier."

Leonhard tears knee tendon

As they say: Where's there's smoke there's fire. The same goes for injury rumors.

The news after Sunday's Jets win was that Jim Leonhard would be out for the season. An MRI yesterday confirmed a torn patellar tendon.

"You feel absolutely terrible for him," head coach Rex Ryan said. "This team means everything to Jim, and his leadership is obviously going to be missed - without question." O METRO
